There are many spiritual and religious organizations that support MICA students.

The following organizations are currently active and there is always room for new organizations that represent the changing needs of the student body.

Buddhism in Action
Buddhism in Action hopes to promote a peaceful society, starting at MICA and branching outward. The goals of Buddhism in Action are to actively promote peace, culture, and education through personal change and social contribution. Buddhism in Action welcomes individuals regardless of personal faith, race, gender, age or sexual orientation. Buddhism in Action holds weekly meetings to provide a network for individuals at MICA who practice Nichiren Buddhism, are interested in Buddhism or simply want to get involved with a group dedicated to the propagation of peace.

Disciples on Campus
Disciples on Campus is a restoration movement group that is committed to helping men and women cultivate and strengthen their relationship with God. All MICA students are welcome to weekly Bible Talks and Devotional Meetings.

Koinonia Christian Fellowship
Koinonia is MICA’s Christian Fellowship. This group meets every Friday for weekly Bible study, prayer, and fellowship time. Events also include potlucks, outings, an annual mission trip, social awareness and outreach.

Mission In Christian Artists (M.I.C.A.)
M.I.C.A. is committed to creating an environment for artists to learn about the Christian Faith and share fellowship. This is accomplished through weekly services on Thursday nights, weekly Bible studies on Friday nights, and other activities. M.I.C.A.’s primary audience is Korean-speaking students. M.I.C.A. actively participates in the events and exhibitions that are held by Korean Christian organizations, and is a member of BCMA (Baltimore Campus Ministry Association). M.I.C.A. also attends Christian art-related seminars and conferences on the East Coast.

OY! Jewish Student Organization
OY! integrates Jewish life both on and off campus by informing our members of Jewish events and resources in Baltimore. We have events for Jewish holidays and informational meetings on how to prepare for those holidays. We also discuss what it is to be a Jewish artist in modern times. All are welcome. What? You’re not Jewish? Ok, so we won’t tell anybody!

The Reflection Room
The Reflection Room is a quiet, non-denominational space that allows for meditation and reflection. The space can accommodate individual or small group gatherings for prayer, meditation, and all religious traditions. Tolerance for all beliefs is the core mission of this unified space.

The Reflection Room is open 24/7 for the spiritual, meditative, and reflective needs of the MICA community. It is located on the second floor of the Fox Building at the end of the hallway that faces the Howard Street Bridge.

A small library is available and people are encouraged to leave books to share on topics relevant to personal and spiritual growth.
