In 1998, Life Magazine attempted to come up with a list of The 100 Most Important People of the Past 1,000 Years. Here is a selection of people from the list who could be categorized by their role of Scientists and Thinkers. The list includes scientists, philosophers, doctors, and inventors. The bars represent the number of years the person was alive.